HOUSE BURNING OVER HEADS.
Family Calmly Ate Dinner Till Notified of Danger by Neighbors.
Georgia, March 15.—The large house on the farm of Mrs. H. C. Allen of St. Albans, which is carried on by Peter J. Wells, was burned to the ground about noon yesterday. The loss on the house, which was a two-story and a half structure, with shed attached, also burned, is estimated at from $3,500 to $4,000, partially covered by insurance.
The family were eating dinner when a neighbor called to tell them that the house was on fire. It is thought the fire started in the attic from the chimney. It was at once seen that the building could not be saved and all efforts were directed toward removing the household goods. Nearly all were saved, but all the vegetables in the cellar, including from 125 to 130 bushels of potatoes, were lost.
The farm is about a mile and a half from this village.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Cutler of Jefferson street have returned from Boston, where they have been attending the auto show.
Miss Mae Wilson of South Main street returned this morning from Marshfield, where she spent the week end with relatives.
Mrs. George Williams of West Berlin was the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Bosworth of Perry street, Saturday and Sunday.
Mrs. William M. Stewart of the Morse block, who has suffered intensely for a long time with neuritis in her face, is still a great sufferer.
Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Knapp of St. Johnsbury returned home this morning after visiting several days with Miss Christine Tubbs of 7 Summer street.
John Bertoli of Quincy, Mass., who was called to Barre by the death of Eugene Carusi of Second street, is passing several days with friends in the city.
The ladies and pastor's union of the Hedding church are making plans for a sugar social which will be held in the church dining room Friday night.
Clarence H. Kendrick returned this morning to St. Albans, after passing a few days with Mrs. Kendrick and son, Ralph, at their home on Academy street.
Best for Growing Children—Cumming Jersey milk; about four inches of cream in every bottle; measure yours, then phone 392-14; direct from the farm to family; delivered morning and night.
Miss Mary Blanchard of Lowell, Mass., arrived Saturday, being called here by the serious illness of her niece, Miss Edith Blanchard, who is at the City hospital. While here she is staying at the home of Victor Beaulac of Farwell street.
John Delisa, who has been employed in the barber shop of Andres Balzarnelli on North Main street for several months, completed his duties Saturday night and left yesterday for New York, where he has secured a position.
Mrs. Florence Little of Harrington avenue left yesterday for New Haven, Conn., where she will join her husband, William Little, who recently went to that city and secured employment as a machinist in the factory of the Winchester Arms Co.

Thomas Wagner, jr., of Bangor, Me., arrived in the city Saturday and has been appointed deputy superintendent of the Metropolitan Insurance Co. of this city. He is taking the place recently vacated by M. F. Mahoney, who was transferred to New Haven, Conn.

Seniors of Goddard seminary are planning to repeat their successful presentation of "The Private Tutor," at the grand hall in Williamstown on Friday evening.

Under the direction of Miss Clara F. Whipple of the faculty, who trained the participants for the initial performance, the cast is rehearsing again this week. A large part of the student body plans to accompany the thespians to Williamstown, as the presentation in that town will mark the close of the winter term. Sessions at the seminary are to be suspended Friday afternoon for the annual Easter vacation of ten days.

One of the most pretentious baseball schedules in the history of athletics at Goddard seminary is in the making and if the negotiations which are now being carried on by Manager William Quinn attain fruition, the school team will play a number of important out of town games in addition to the usual quota of fixtures on the seminary campus.

A four-game trip through Massachusetts is in prospect and arrangements for two games are already completed. In mid-season the seminary will play Groton school at Groton, Mass., and St. Mark's school, two of the best known preparatory schools in America. It is also hoped to include Tufts college in the Massachusetts schedule. Coach Charles Hoernle is putting a squad of 30 men through their paces in the gymnasium these days. Lawton Witt of Winchendon, Mass., is the captain and Quinn, Hastie, Washer and Morrison are the leading candidates for backstop.

Among the ten promising candidates for the firing line are Knefe, Guernsey, Tommy Davidson and Pitkin. The schedule will be announced within a few days.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to thank all our many friends and neighbors for the kind acts shown us during the illness and death of our husband and father; also for the many beautiful floral tributes.
Mrs. E. A. Carusi and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce of Currier street, who accompanied the remains of Mrs. Pierce's mother, Mrs. Irene M. Stoddard, to Yarmouth, Me., for burial Friday, returned to this city to-day. Funeral services for Mrs. Stoddard were held in Yarmouth Saturday afternoon and the interment was made beside the body of Mr. Stoddard, who died several years ago.

Owing to the unsettled situation in the Barre granite belt, operations along the quarry line of the Barre railroad are almost at a standstill. Last week was one of the duller ever known in granite transportation circles. A number of the train hands employed on the daily runs to Graniteville, Westerville and East Barre have been laid off pending a readjustment of conditions. During the latter part of the week the necessity for hauling empties to the hill required the services of the train crew and a few men will be engaged this week on trains commissioned for the purpose of hauling coal to the hill and freight to the merchants in Barre Town.

Owing to a change of occupation, James F. Riley announced to-day that he has disposed of his interest in what has hitherto been known as Riley's orchestra. Karl H. Forsell, cornet soloist and manager of the Montpelier Military band orchestra, will take full charge of the orchestra business from to-day on. Previously it has been reported that Mr. Landi of the Landi & Basini studio, would be interested in the orchestra, but this report is unconfirmed. Mr. Riley stated to-day that his successor, Mr. Forsell, is now in a position to furnish two good orchestras for all occasions, and the speaker, in referring to the situation said: "I can highly recommend him (Mr. Forsell) in every respect, and I feel that I have left my orchestra in good hands. I also take this opportunity to thank one and all who have in any way assisted in making 'Riley's orchestra' a success."

WAS HOLDING A SALE.

When Mother Interposed Objection By Legal Procedure.

Burlington, March 15.—Just as he was in the act of selling off the furniture at his home on Pine street yesterday afternoon, the police swooped down on Daniel Lewis and arrested him on a charge of petit larceny on complaint of his mother.

It developed that Lewis lived with his mother and wife in the house on Pine street and while the mother went visiting a daughter in Montpelier, Lewis and his wife went to Richmond. The mother retained possession of the keys. Yesterday Lewis drove to Burlington from Richmond and gained entrance to the house by removing a cellar window, crawling through the opening and unlocking a door from the inside upstairs. He then sent for Isaac Perelman and started in to sell off the household furniture.

Some one notified Lewis' mother of what was going on and she at once telephoned to the police that a set of dishes and other articles being sold were her property. She feared that the man be locked up as a means of preventing him from selling the goods. He had already disposed of a dresser and some furniture when the police arrived. The charge against him will be petit larceny.
